KeyedIn® Solutions and CDG Team Up to Provide Cloud-Based, Integrated Project and Resource Management Solutions

CDG to Offer KeyedIn Products and Services to UK Customers

Minneapolis, MN (December 11, 2014) — KeyedIn® Solutions, an innovator in aPaaS and SaaS-based business solutions, and CDG, a leading digital integrator that helps global brands improve agility, today announced a new partnership that will expand CDG's solutions portfolio and offer customers a broader range of project and resource management options. The partnership will enable the companies to work together to deliver open source software solutions that reduce risks, increase transparency and improve operations.

As a global digital integrator, CDG works with some of the world's best-known brands to integrate digital capabilities and improve agility, transforming companies by providing custom solutions that improve their competitive position. Given CDG's core value proposition, the partnership with KeyedIn Solutions is a natural fit.

"The partnership will allow us to provide Cloud-based, fully integrated project and resource management solutions that meet the specific needs of the specialized market verticals we serve," said Chris Patton, Marketing Director at CDG. "We use KeyedIn Solutions software internally, so we know first-hand how it can help businesses operate more efficiently and effectively. We are delighted to add KeyedIn Projects to our growing technology portfolio."

"CDG and KeyedIn share the same commitment to improving customer capabilities and achieving aggressive growth, so this partnership is a big win for customers and for our companies," said Jamie Taylor, Director of Strategic Alliances for KeyedIn Solutions. "CDG recognized the need for quality SaaS-based project management technology within its key customer verticals. We're excited to work with the CDG team to provide a 'technology wrapper' for their excellent digital and consultancy services."
