

Keyedin™ Solutions Announces Master Class Program on Driving Business, IT and Project Performance

Free White Paper and Webinar Program is Key to Program Management Office Success

Bradford, England — 05 March 2013 — Keyedin Solutions, the rapidly-growing SaaS (Software as a Service) and business consulting company, has launched a free White Paper and Webinar program to help managers drive business performance by managing projects more effectively and efficiently.

Keyedin Solutions has released the first Webinar – The Business Case for Project Portfolio Management (PPM) – on-line as a taster to the Master Class series which will run throughout the year.

The PPM Master Class Series, which includes five dedicated White Papers and a series of 'listen now or listen later' Webinars, is designed to address the key issues concerning the implementation, deployment and management of PPM in modern business.

Ian Needs of Keyedin says: "The program aims to simplify and demystify the debate in simple terms, on what Project Portfolio Management is, why it's important to your business and how to organize your people, processes and tools."

The series will discuss how best to organize a business ready for PPM, create the business case, build an effective PPM framework and finally, how to kick start the PPM process.

White Papers are:

- The Business Case for Project Portfolio Management.
- Empowering the Business through Project Portfolio Management.
- Organizing the Business for Project Portfolio Management.
- Building an Effective Project Portfolio Management Framework.
- Kick Starting the Project Portfolio Management Process.
